A lot of the parts on the JDM engine are actually not the same compared to the USDM version due to the difference in emissions regulations in both countries. It's one thing that California market 3rd gen 4Runners are different than the 49-state 4Runners, let alone one from a different country.

3rd Gen - Engine Swap or Fix? : 4Runner - reddit

The third gen 4Runner is becoming one of the best platforms to do a solid axle swap on and to build an awesome trail rig. It's a perfect size vehicle to build upon and has been super reliable with its engine and transmission choices. It is one of my favorites vehicles around. This one came to us with a ton of changes already.
